‘Titanic’ Recruitment Drive – 50 New Jobs at Titanic Belfast

Titanic Belfast, the world’s largest Titanic visitor experience, is recruiting for 50 frontline staff as it gears up for its summer high season.

The world-class exhibition, which continues to exceed expectations and has now welcomed over 2.7 million visitors from over 145 countries, is recruiting for 50 public facing roles on fixed-term contracts. This is the company’s largest single recruitment drive since opening in 2012 and jobs range across the front line, including Visitor Experience, Ticketing, Retail and Events.

Chief Executive of Titanic Belfast, Tim Husbands MBE, “At Titanic Belfast, we value our staff as one of key assets and reasons for success having been named Europe’s best visitor attraction for groups, beating the Eiffel Tour and London Eye as well as listed in Lonely Planet’s Ultimate Travelist of the world’s most striking locations. To ensure our world-class standards are met and maintained, all our employees go through a robust training programme, including substantial on the job and bespoke customer service training. If you have excellent communication skills and interest in both Titanic and Belfast’s industrial heritage – you could have the ‘Titanic-factor’ and be part of our award-winning crew!”

Titanic Belfast was recently awarded a ‘Gold Standard’ Investor in People accreditation, which is acknowledged UK-wide as the most successful framework for business improvement through people.

In the first three years the exhibition, which has been described by the Prime Minister as ‘absolutely brilliant’, generated £105 million in additional tourism spend for the Northern Ireland economy and has sustained around 893 jobs each year in the wider economy.
